

JAN 24th: "NERVES ARE A-FRAYIN'

Didn't expect to need to say another word but promises are promises. Many people are right on the edge of the seats, ready to do what they have to. Others are throwing everything including the kitchen sink to avoid the what's coming at them. They failed to intimidate, plots have failed to end people's lives, and the machine of change keeps rolling. It's less about us getting money now, it's more about a few hundred years of exposure being made public. Some who have been instrumental in enslaving the public thru trickery and theft, will find their family names not worth mentioning above a whisper. As Bush Senior was once quoted as saying, 'they'll hang us from the nearest lamppost if they find out what we've done'. As one dragon said over a year ago, the people of America will have to be told the truth about their country so, they'll never let it happen again. Kind of reminds me of what the forefathers of this country said after they had finally ironed out the constitution, 'it's good thing, now we will see how long they can keep it'. They knew the bankers were already conspiring to take over the country, then. Amshel Rothschild made it very clear way back then how they viewed politics then, which means today, it wouldn't matter if you were a democrat or a republican because they would control the money.

There are many patriots out there in the world, who have done their jobs are preparing to return here, they just need to hear that final statement, that America is back under it's organic constitution. Something that many uninformed Americans will have to come to terms with, after what we have been fed for years, believing was true. Interpol is here because we have international criminals on the loose over here which we have failed to prosecute because some of them 'we' voted for and think are 'clean'. Of course, under the corporation laws, they are innocent. Not now, the corp has been wiped out, bankrupt, more news about to be dropped on us. That little issue was cleaned up between the Chinese and the Brits, Monday a week ago. We like to think the world court has nothing to say about what happens over here, yet so much has been filed with it, that Americans know nothing about, but the chief justice does. He had to handle a lot during the Bush administration that was missed or not spoken about by they who knew. Even Bernanke knows the fed isn't 'American'.

Listen very carefully now, things are already being made public but seem to be slipping by people's attention so, the full weight of what's going down here isn't really going to be heard until they begin to be given thru the announcements to the public. I'm talking about, they will get everyone's attention, whether they want to hear it or not. They are ready for the marginal chaos that will develop when people begin to hear and react from what comes at them. Some won't care how many documents are forthcoming, their emotions will get the better of them and they'll just 'snap out'. We went thru the 60's and made it, the country will get thru this, too. You receivers, will need to keep calm heads and understand there will be sharks in the water so don't act like lottery winners and run around like chickens with their heads cut off. Assume nothing, wait until you have the instructions in your own hands and read them. Who said you need to show up at the bank with 20 names, who read that in the instructions? People who've already gotten their letters sometime ago have Never mentioned that, not that they are out here flappin' their gums. The reception of your letters are just the tip of this iceberg, then the world gets turned on it's head, or should I say, gets turned right side up, for this, one should be prepared. Many 'mysteries' will be revealed. Some of that 'fear' has already shown up in the world court, with some filings to avoid some folks names and business being put on the streets. Like my daddy used to say, 'what are crying for now, you weren't crying when you did it?'...as that stick hovered in the air about to make contact.

Ok folks, that ought to be it out of me. We have work to do and we need to be about it. Heavy lumber is already being moved out of our way so we can get done what needs being done. Some of you I will see later as some of these new projects get under way. The world is going green right over the backs of those who would love to keep the status quo. Remember an old line, 'they who have the gold rule' not they who talk more trash than the early morning radio. Dragons don't wear lapel pins to identify themselves and that's why these goons don't have a chance of surviving. The frequencies of the planet are surging upwards very rapidly and if the equipment can't work with those surging frequencies, they become useless. Like the change from dc went to ac, now the new is coming on, and even ac is being left behind. We are also going from binary to trinary computer systems, see ya IBM, Bill Gates, et al. I know this has been one tough row to hoe or even hang on to, for that matter. It doesn't matter if you have 'given up', the world's banking system still has to change and it is, you are a part of it, so they'll drop by your house regardless. Big Hugs to all. Oh Yea, New Zealand remains pristine despite the madness that has gone on in this world, so I want to thank the lender who sent me a reminder. Bless you brother!

Love and Kisses,

"Poofness"
