

Update on the Washington Redskins Cheerleader crippled for life after being vaccinated!

This is an update on Desiree Jennings. This poor woman was crippled with a neurological disorder after taking a vaccine, which is poisonous and contains mercury, squalene and other chemical toxins harmful to the body and nervous system among other dangerous substances that are in them. Research into the ingredients of what is inside a vaccine and DO NOT foolishly put something into your body when you do not even know what's in it or what it can do to you.

News Flash

Flu Shot Victim Desiree Jennings is on her way to better health now after being diagnosed with an “untreatable” Neurological Disorder.

Jennings has made progress as a result of treatment provided by Dr. Rashid Buttar in LA with the aid of Generation Rescue, the charity that helped Jenny McCarthy’s son recover from autism after a vaccine. Jenny McCarthy and her partner, movie star, Jim Carey are both big supporters of generation rescue.

The Robert Scott Bell Show was first to break the story of the treating doctor and resulting success in reversing a supposedly incurable neurological adverse event reaction. This dramatic healing could serve to weaken the grip of the authoritarian naysayers within the medical industrial complex when it comes to vaccine injuries and the recovery of patients so injured.

Robert Scott Bell interviews treating physician Dr. Rashid Buttar about Desiree Jennings’s medical condition and chelation therapy treatment, including his concern that certain pharmaceutical interest groups will attack them because of the possibility that this dramatic healing might weaken those in favour of mandatory vaccinations.

Will Desiree Jennings be the shot heard round the world?

“Doctor treating flu shot patient could lose license.”

The saga that is Desiree Jennings’s flu shot-induced neurological impairment (Dystonia) continues. In the initial interview that broke the story, Robert Scott Bell predicted that the pharmaceutically-conflicted government/media complex would seek to attack those claiming or promoting methods of healing that do not fit nicely into a prescription drug pill bottle.

Sure enough, following The Robert Scott Bell Show podcast, the first big-media headline was: “Doctor treating flu shot patient could lose license.” Read more...
